Absolute 64 Fly

IRRESISTIBLE AS A VOCATION

Luxury yachts can be compared to ladies, for their elegance. Ancient vessels, are called nobles as a sign of respect. The epithet of majestic suits the sumptuous transatlantic steamships of the XX century. Admired polar explorer's wild boats are defined as intrepid. These are the four elements that shape "Absolute 64 FLY".

Deck neat and soft lines contrast with the unmistakable Absolute diamond spearhead to convey the idea of elegance. The space partition in the lower deck is elegant and harmonic. The four cabins pamper the ship owner and his guests, offering them comfort, privacy and refreshment.

STRENGTH AND FORCE

The nobility of the authentic navigation with a constant aspiration to light and sun: large windows offer the seamen a clear view of the sea. The solemn majesty of this boat is marked by solid and enduring elements, as equipment and their functioning, structures and settings.

Modern electronic systems of navigation, artfully combined with authentic motor-yacht lines of the hull permit the intrepid exploration of the oceans, sailing from land to land, parting the wave and keeping control. The two helm stations, from where the captain supervises and steers the boat, express strength and force.
